

Protingent Staffing Named one of Washington's Best Workplaces

Seattle - August 10, 2007 – Protingent Staffing is one of Sixty five companies across the state to make the grade as Washington's Best Workplaces, the Puget Sound Business Journal announced today.

The Washington's Best Workplaces program was launched this year by the Business Journal to identify and recognize best practices in the hiring and retention of great people. After an extensive and rigorous process, which included more than 200 nominees and the completion of surveys by nominee-company employees across the state, workplaces in four different categories have been identified as Washington's best.

“Work force development has never been more important – or more difficult – than it is in today's global economy,” said Emory Thomas Jr., publisher of the Business Journal. “We believe the Business Journal, as the Puget Sound area's top source of business information, has an important role to play in drawing attention to innovations and excellence in the management of our region's No. 1 resource: its people.”

According to Donn Harvey, President of Protingent Staffing “fostering a great work environment sets the stage for the superior customer service we are known for. Fostering a team atmosphere and promoting a work life balance helps to reduce employee turnover resulting in strong long term relationships with our client companies”.
